Hometown News Releases For Military Personnel and Civilians

The Hometown News Release Program is alive and kicking and is as easy as 1-2-3! Your 6th Area Support Group Media Center on Kelley Barracks is the place to go for assistance in sending information back home to the local newspapers and radio stations.

The hometown program is for both the local service member and civilian hard at work in the Stuttgart military community. Telling their story is the number one mission of the program and the Media Center is totally committed to the task. However, the center is helpless without the support and dedication of our service members and civilians.

Service members: have you just re-enlisted; arrived for duty overseas; received an award or decoration for individual achievement (AAM or higher); retired; received a college degree; or been named soldier or non-commissioned officer of the month or quarter? Civilians: have you just received a decoration for exceptional civilian service; received a suggestion award for $500 or more; or graduated from a military school where the class was mostly made up of military personnel?

If you have something to tell your hometown, then get the word out by stopping by the Media Center, building 3307 on Kelley Barracks, to pick up a release form; faxing your form request to 0711-729-2051; or emailing (media@email.moehringen.army.mil). The form is user-friendly and takes just a couple of minutes to fill out. Then, hand the release back to the Media Center staff and they'll do the rest. It's really that easy! For more info call 0711-729-2000.
